

We consume news through several mediums throughout the day in our daily routine, but sometimes it becomes difficult to decide which one is fake and which one is authentic. Every news that we consume is not real. If you listen to fake news it means you are collecting the wrong information from the world which can affect society because a person's views or thoughts can change after consuming fake news which the user perceives to be true.